

The State of Washington

Proclamation

WHEREAS, agriculture is a cornerstone of the Washington State economy; and

WHEREAS, Washington's 125 farmers markets provide fresh, nutritious, locally grown food to consumers of all ages and ethnic backgrounds in rural and urban communities around the state; and

WHEREAS, Washington farmers markets generate more than $55 million in sales that support farm families and local businesses and services; and

WHEREAS, farmers markets are important meeting places, contributing to the economic and social vitality of many communities, creating a positive social experience, and educating consumers about their food and where it comes from; and

WHEREAS, farmers markets have provided economic and market support for farms in the wake of this winter's floods in southwest Washington;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Christine Gregoire, Governor of the state of Washington, do hereby proclaim August 3-9, 2008, as in Washington State, and I urge all citizens to join me in recognizing the many benefits of our local farmers markets.

Signed this 24th day of June, 2008
